Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 8/13/2007 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

2. The amendment dated 7/30/2007 has been fully considered and entered into the Record. Claims 1 and 29-32 are amended, but contain no new matter. Claims 1, 4-32 are currently pending with claims 6-23 being withdrawn and claims 1, 4, 5 and 24-32 currently active. The previous rejections made in view of Watanabe et al. have been withdrawn as the applied art failed to teach or suggest a surface consisting of hydrophilic silica particles. The previously applied Obvious Double Patenting rejections have been withdrawn as the applied applications have been abandoned.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is unclear what BET is intended to mean. Please use the full name of the acronym.

4. Claims 29-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Applicant has amended claim 1 to recite a surface consisting of hydrophilic silica particles. It is unclear to Examiner how a surface consisting of hydrophilic silica particles can be composed of less than 100% hydrophilic silica particles.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1, 4, 5, 24-28 and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Henkel (WO 01/83662 A1). The English equivalent (US 2004/0023824 A1) of the WO document has been relied upon for this rejection.

Henkel discloses the use of particles with sizes ranging from 5 to 500nm for improving the soil-release properties of textiles and other surfaces (abstract and [0012]). The particles may be silica [0011] and hydrophilicize the surfaces to which they are attached [0002]. The particles used in accordance with the invention may be incorporated in liquid, gel-form or even solid compositions [0023]. These alternative forms of presenting the hydrophilic particles to the desired surface serve as the claimed carrier and fixative particles. The applied reference provides for the particles with the instantly claimed size, but the WO document fails to teach or suggest the hydrophilic silica particle surface area.

Examiner takes the position that since the instantly claimed size is provided for the same particles would necessarily also provide for the claimed surface area.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

6. Claims 28-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Henkel (WO 01/83662 A1).

Henkel fails to teach or suggest a percentage of a surface that is to be covered by the hydrophilic silica particles. The reference does disclose that the content of the silica particles should be gauged so that the surface of the article to be coated is sufficiently covered to impart the desired hydrophilicity [0014]. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have made article with the instantly claimed amount of silica particles, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 4, 5 and 24-32 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
